Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in these trading terms and conditions, the company shall not be liable for any indirect and consequential loss arising from any act or omission or statement or advice by the company, its agents, servants or nominees, whether negligent or otherwise.

41. MONETARY LIMITATION OF LIABILITY OF THE COMPANY

41.1. In those cases where the company is liable to the customer in terms of clause 40.1, or for any other reason, in no such case whatsoever shall any liability of the company, howsoever arising, exceed whichever is the least of the following respective amounts –

41.1.1. if applicable, the value of the goods evidenced by the relevant documentation or declared by the customer for customs purposes or for any purpose connected with their transportation;

41.1.2. if applicable, the value of the goods declared for insurance purposes;

41.1.3. double the amount of the fees raised by the company for its services in connection with the goods, information, advice or other service provided by it, but excluding any amount payable to sub-contractors, agents and third parties.

41.2. If it is desired that the liability of the company in those cases where it is liable to the customer in terms of clause 40.1 should not be governed by the limits referred to in clause 40.1 written notice thereof must be received by the company before any goods or documents are entrusted to or delivered to or into the control of the company (or its agents or sub-contractors), together with a statement of the value of the goods. Upon receipt of such notice the company may in the exercise of its absolute discretion agree in writing to its liability being increased to a maximum amount equivalent to the amount stated in the notice, in which case it will be entitled to effect special insurance to cover its maximum liability and the party giving the notice shall be deemed, by so doing, to have agreed and undertaken to pay the company the amount of the premium payable by the company for such insurance. If the company does not so agree the limits referred to in clause 41.1 shall apply.

41.3. If no fee is raised by the company for the information, advice or service provided by it then, for the purposes of clause 41.1.3, the company shall be deemed to have raised a fee equivalent to the fee that it would usually have raised for such information, advice or service or, failing this, an amount of R1 000.00.

42. GENERAL AVERAGE

The customer indemnifies and holds harmless the company in respect of any claims of a general average nature which may be made against the company and the customer shall provide such security as may be required by the company in this connection.

43. BREACH

If the company breaches any of these trading terms and conditions or any agreement between it and the customer and fails to remedy such breach within 30 days of the date of receipt of written notice requiring it to do so then the customer shall be entitled to compel performance by the company of the obligations it has defaulted in, but shall not be entitled to cancel these trading terms and conditions and any agreement between the customer and the company.

44. WARRANTIES AND REPRESENTATIONS BY THE COMPANY

The company makes no warranties and representations to the customer save as may be specifically provided herein or as notified in writing by the company to the customer from time to time. The customer acknowledges that the company is not in any way bound by any oral statement, representation, guarantee, promise, undertaking, inducement or otherwise which may have been made at any time by any salesman, employee, representative or any person acting or purporting to act for or on behalf of the company, whether negligently or otherwise unless such statements, representations, guarantees, promises, undertakings, warranties or inducements are supplied or made in writing by an employee duly authorised by written resolution of the board of directors of the company in response to a written enquiry specifying accurately and in complete detail what information is required.

45. DISPUTES

- 45.1. Should there be any dispute of any nature whatsoever between the parties in regard to any aspect, matter or thing relating to these trading terms and conditions and whether or not the company has executed its obligations in terms of any agreement it has with the customer, then and in such event the customer shall nevertheless be obliged to perform its obligations in terms of any such agreement as though the company had performed properly and to the customer's satisfaction.
- 45.2. The customer's remedy, having performed its obligations as provided in clause 45.1, shall be limited to an action against the company for repayment of either the whole or portion of the amount which the customer alleges, constitutes an overpayment.
- 45.3. Without affecting the generality of clauses 45.1 and 45.2 the customer shall not be entitled to withhold payment of any amounts, by reason of any dispute with the company, whether in relation to the company's performance in terms of any agreement, or lack of performance or otherwise, after which payment the customer's rights of action against the company in terms of this clause can be enforced. Until such payment is made, any rights that the customer may have, shall be deemed not yet to have arisen and it is only the payment to the company which releases such rights and makes them available to the customer in respect of any claim that he may have against the company.
- 45.4. In any dispute between the company and the customer the company shall be deemed to have performed its obligations in a proper and workmanlike manner and strictly in accordance with any agreement between it and the customer, until such time as the customer proves the contrary.
- 45.5. At the option of the company, any dispute of any nature whatsoever between the company and the customer may be referred for final resolution in the city or town in which the company's head office is situated, in accordance with the Rules of the Arbitration Foundation of Southern Africa, by an arbitrator or arbitrators appointed by the Foundation.

46. TIME FOR PERFORMANCE BY THE CUSTOMER

Time is of the essence for the performance by the customer of all obligations owed to the company in terms of any agreement with it governed by these terms and conditions.

47. CLAIMS

- 47.1. Any claim against the company must be notified to the company in writing within 30 days of the event giving rise to the claim, failing which it shall be deemed to have been extinguished for all purposes.
- 47.2. Subject to compliance with clause 47.1, any claim against the company shall be extinguished for all purposes 365 days after the event giving rise to the claim, unless prior to the expiry of the period a summons or other process instituting legal action has been served on the company.
- 47.3. Should any applicable terms and conditions as contemplated by clause 16 contain a shorter time period for the notification of claims than that referred to in clause 47.1 then, for the purposes of clause 47.1, that shorter time period shall apply.

48. SEVERABILITY

If any provision of these terms and conditions is unenforceable, then the company shall be entitled to elect (which election may be made at any time) that such provision shall be severed from the remaining provisions of these terms and conditions which shall not be affected and shall remain of full force and effect.
